Dedication

We, the Senior Class, in recognition of one who has a personal interest in each student in the school to the extent that she will go out of her way to help them, and who unselfishly gave of her time to help our class in our many extracurricular activities, namely these: The Junior-Senior Banquet and the Junior Class Play, do dedicate this, the Acron for 1960, to Mrs. Dan Mosteller.

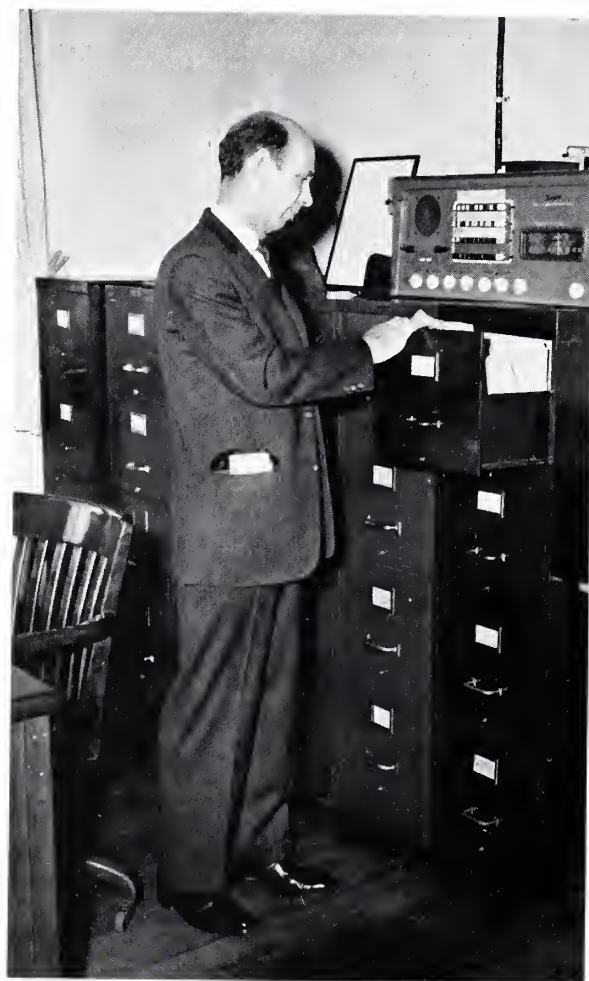

MRS. DAN MOSTELLER

Dedication

Principal's Message

The best advice that I have to give young people is to learn and never stop learning. Learn to work and be prosperous. Learn to serve and be happy. Learn to love humanity and be human. Learn to contribute and live in God's Kingdom. Learn to want and be grateful. Learn to die and have faith.

Where Does Our Future Lie?

(SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY)

One day in Mrs. Rhyne's second period French Class, while I wasn't thinking about the French Lesson at all - don't get me wrong, French isn't a bore, but when she starts handing out all that jazz about "vieux homme prendre le diner" and "il fail manuvais," that's enough to start anybody daydreaming.

So that's how I happen to be there ten years later on the luxurious OCEAN QUEEN bound for Paris. Being adventurous as always, I investigated beyond the ropes where no one is allowed; and before I knew what had happened, the boat lurched and I fell overboard! After struggling for a few minutes in the water, I was rescued by a handsome skin-diver who turned out to be Jerry Canipe, an old schoolmate. Patsy McKnight, the social director, helped me get prepared to meet the captain. I was taken before the captain; and as I stood in front of a huge desk, I looked into the solemn, stern face of an old friend, Barry Sain. After the ship docked and Barry explained the rules, he asked me out to dinner. I accepted, and we went to "La Cuisine Parisienne." As soon as we walked in, I smelled the wonderful aroma of pizza. I glanced toward the kitchen and saw Brenda Gilbert - she was the Chef. While eating dinner, we were entertained by Judy Jonas, who sang and pantomimed the "La Bataille d' Oreleans."

After dinner I went to find a hotel. It was getting late, but the hotel owner, Franklin Schronce, said that he had several vacant rooms. I guess some friends always remain friends, because Jimmy Taylor and Timmy Reynolds turned out to be the hotel bell hops.

When I got to my hotel room, I was very tired; but I decided to watch television for a few minutes. And, what more could anyone ask for than an American sports reel. First was the world series, which had been played off, and the winning Dodgers' star, Clyde Ingle, who had always played baseball. Then came the Southern Five Hundred races, won by a fast 1960 Impala Chevrolet driven by Jerry Huss. The announcer, Sonny Wise, signed the sports reel off; and next came a commercial. The lady who was advertising Revlon Cosmetics looked familiar; and as I looked at Madgalene Helms, I thought of high school days. At that time, I turned off the television and went to sleep.

The next morning, relaxed and feeling energetic, I made my way downstairs. I went to a neat little restaurant, where I saw Mattie Ann Smith and Jane Propst as waitresses. They told me that they had been in France for four years.

After breakfast, I took a boat ride down the Seine River. My "taxie" turned out to be Ralph Grill, who was my bus driver in high school.

Gliding down the river, I noticed huge, beautiful green pastures and dairy barns. As we passed the house, I glanced at the mailbox and saw the name, Bobby Abernethy; I never dreamed that Bobby would be one of the world's greatest cheese producers.

When we came almost to shore, my guide, Max Johnson, told me that the vineyards all along the bank were all owned by partners, by name Roy Shultz and Eugene Sain. I decided to cut my tour short and do some shopping. Upon entering the exclusive fashion shop, I recognized the Dorsey twins, Mary Lee and Rosa Lee, and told them I wanted to see several styles of white formals. I was even more astounded when the streamlined models, Josie Spenser and Carolyn Green, came before me in a beautiful array of Chiffon evening wear, all designed by the famous designers, Clifton Tessner and Rosa Nell Armstrong. After purchasing a lovely gown, I needed a pair of satin shoes to complete my ensemble which I bought at the Mademoiselle Shop. The proprietors were Jean Wyant, Peggy Scronce, and Linda Gilbert.

My day being completed, I decided to have dinner at the "Fountain Bleu" where I was entertained by Lib Hoover, Jane Killian, and Clara Cochrane doing their well-known French Dance.

Upon returning to my hotel room, for a much needed rest, I read the newspaper and my eyes nearly bulged out when I saw the headlines which read "American guest of Queen Elizabeth." Seeing that the boy's face looked familiar I read farther to discover it was my high school friend, Larry Leonard. Quickly leafing through the paper another article caught my eye. Brenda Sain, who has won world fame as a novelist is working on a book of psychology and is being assisted by Brenda Carswell, psychiatrist, called to France from the United States.

The next morning I had to rush like mad to get to the Palace of Versailles before ten o'clock. At the Palace of Versailles the Peace Conference is to be held in the Hall of Mirrors. As I went into the room I was escorted by B. E. Gilbert and later found out that Jimmy Elmore was also a page-boy.

After the conference started, I recognized the faces of Christine Crowder and Janice Anderson. Later I discover that they are representatives from the United Nations.

By now you are wondering what I was doing in France. It so happens that I was representing the United States at the World Peace Conference. Oh! On the way home I took an airplane; the stewardess, Nancy Sain, was very nice to me. I also noticed a couple sitting behind me; I turned around to see Joyce and Olen Travis. Joyce told me that they were on their second honeymoon.

My daydream came to an abrupt end when Mrs. Rhyne asked me to translate a paragraph in French.

Prophet,
Mary Lee Taylor

Class Poem

"MAGIC MOMENTS"

Come with me, take my hand.
I'm taking you, seniors, to a magic land.
We'll walk again in primary days,
To recall jolly times of our school-child phrase.
We hastened to learn, so very quick,
Our reading, 'ritin, and 'rithmetic.
And, as if we were in a daze,
Time passed quickly, in a haze.
Not many dunce caps were placed on our heads.
The teachers delighted with spankings, instead.
Just studying wasn't all,
Everyone loved to play, especially ball.
Then, at last, our time grew near.
The great day had come, our Freshman year.
New duties were ours, jobs were begun;
We, soon learned a new song would be sung!
We were the jolliest under the sun.
Those last years were to be,
Our high-school educational destiny.

Finally, the wonderful year shall come,
The class of '60, Gee, our life's just begun.
Our class consists of 41, I shall enumerate;
For next spring, we shall graduate.
When, we, together do convene,
There's Three Brendas, two Janes, and one Jean.
Handsome Bobby, Friendly Timmie,
Talky Max and two Jimmys,
Pretty Patsy, and Clyde, our king,
Sweet Rosa Nell, and intelligent Larry and Madgalene,
Athletic Barry, Franklin, Josie, Carolyn and Snook,
Whizzes at ball, smart in books.
Industrious Janice and Christine are to be seen,
Nice Clafton, Rosa Lee and let's not forget likeable Eugene.
Serious Mattie Ann, and Peggy, her pal,
Two Jerrys and Roy to boost our morale.
Among the group you will see,
Lively Joyce and quiet, B. E.
Clara, a nice girl and two cute Mary Lees
Sonny, Linda, Ralph, and, of course, there's me.
We'll never forget our teacher, so kind,
Our patient and energetic, Mrs. Rhyne!

We looked puzzled to the coming years,
 With open hearts, free from fears
 Our life's ambitions will be our works;
 From such opportunities, we cannot shirk.
 Some of us will have jobs in imaginative dream lands,
 While others may work on foreign sands,
 Or some branch of secretarial sorts,
 Law, medicine, mechanics, and sports.
 Whatever we choose in life to be,
 Will be the right decision, you'll see;
 Golly! We're forgetting one thing!
 We would not be graduating this spring;
 Had it not been for our teachers and principal, so swell.
 And our fathers and mothers who kept us well.
 "Yes, in ourselves our futures lie"
 And our treasured school days die,
 Truer words were never spoken,
 We take this motto as our token.
 This has ended my magic song,
 But, always the triumphant melody lingers on.

Poetess

Judy Jonas

Class History

With twelve years of growth and acquired knowledge, it is time for another Acron to fall from the old Union 'tree' and with it our history falls also.

To begin our class history, I will start with the opening of school in 1955 when twenty-three pupils from Howards Creek joined us at Union making a total of seventy. We were the largest eighth grade ever at Union, making our teachers' worries greater.

In 1956 we accepted the name Freshmen with great pride and entered the high school groove. Officers were elected in each section and served respectively through the year. Nine of our girls made up the Girls' Junior Varsity and seven of the boys made up the Boys' Junior Varsity.

The Sophomores of 1957 we became Juniors of '58. We were grouped into one big section for the first time since we had started school. Wanting our Junior-Senior banquet to be a success, we sold magazines, Stanley products, and Christmas cards. The banquet took place at Cedar Park, April 3.

Nineteen of the Junior class were received into the Beta Club.

When school opened in the fall of 1959, our class became the almighty seniors. We immediately elected officers, chose superlatives; and selected our class motto, flower, and colors.

Our history is small and unimportant to some,
 But the memories will linger and the thoughts remain.
 Of those winding trails and hardened paths,
 Of our parents' encouragement, and
 Our teachers' guidance
 That led us to the achievement.

Historian

Nancy Sain

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class, do hereby will to our parents and faculty our many thanks and appreciation for the patience, loving understanding, and guidance that they have given us.

To the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen we leave all our cherished memories, and the hope that each and every student will prosper in the coming years.

I, Bobby Abernethy, will my bus to Judy Seagle in the hope that she will enjoy driving it as much as she thinks she will.

I, Max Johnson, do hereby will my school books to Maxine Johnson in hopes that she learns more than I did.

I, Sonny Wise, will my Business Math book to my brother, Keith, hoping that he learns as much math as I did.

I, Jimmy Taylor, will my bus to Richard Baucom hoping that he can keep people out of the gas tank better than I did.

I, Jerry Canipe, do hereby will my ability to get along with the teachers to anyone who can stand them better than I did.

I, Brenda Carswell, do hereby will my "odd-ball" ideas and inquisitive "whys" to anyone desiring them.

I, Lib Hoover, do hereby will my good behavior and quietness to Tootie Hartsoe hoping she can acquire the same modesty that I have.

I, Joyce Travis, do hereby will my shorthand book to my sister, Kay Dellinger, in hopes that she can read and write it better than I.

We, Josie Spencer and Carolyn Greene, do hereby will our back seat on the activity bus to Nancy Spencer.

I, Jimmy Elmore, do hereby will my back seat in English Class to my two brothers, Jerry and Howard, in hopes that they can learn more than I did.

I, Ralph Grigg, do hereby will my ability to study to anyone who wants it.

I, Christine Crowder, do hereby will my position as Co-editor on the Trail Blazer to anyone capable of obtaining it in hopes that they do a better job than I did; also, the good times I have had to my brother, Michael.

I, Eugene Sain, will my bus to the next driver in hopes that he or she can arrive at a time suitable to the students riding it. Also, hoping that they can be more successful at holding down the job.

I, Jane Propst, hereby will my Physics Book to my sister, Maxine, and hope she learns more than I did.

We, Mary Lee Taylor, Brenda Gilbert, and Judy Jonas, will our good times and our ability to get into trouble to Bernice Houser, Janice Whitner, and Sammie Haynes, hoping that they stick together as we have.

I, Barry Sain, do hereby will Bus 49 to anyone who thinks they are capable of keeping the students quiet; and my good times at Union to my kid brother, Tim.

I, Clyde Ingle, do hereby will my job as mimeographer on the Trail Blazer to anyone who wants "inky" hands; and all my good times at Union to my brother, Danny.

I, Roy Shultz, will my bus to the next driver and hope that he or she doesn't have as much trouble as I did.

I, Peggy Scronce, do hereby will my books to my brother, Dean, hoping he studies more than I did.

I, Linda Gilbert, do hereby will all my joyful and sad times at Union to Maxine Johnson in hopes that she will make the best of them.

I, Janice Anderson, do hereby will my ability "to court in Mrs. Mosteller's study hall" to anyone who is able to get by with it as I did.

I, Larry Leonard, will to my brother, Harvey, and Larry Sain and Jerry Hill my love of history; and I hope they will strive to do well for Mrs. Mosteller.

We, Patsy McKnight and Clara Cochrane, will our 12th grade happiness to all our friends back home, and wish that they could have shared it with us.

I, Tim Reynolds, will all of my meanness to my brother Tony, and hope he will not get caught as much as I did.

We, Jean Wyant and Brenda Sain, do hereby will all of our fun, troubles and driving ability to Libby Goins, Tootie Hartsoe, Annette, and Janice Sain.

I, Madgalene Helms, am willing to leave Union to those who will occupy it in the future.

I, Nancy Sain, will myself to the future and whatever it may hold.

I, Franklin Schronce, will my good times to my brother, Mickey, and hope he will make more of it than I did.

I, Jane Killian, bequeath school bus No. 7 to my brother Jim, hoping that he enjoys driving it as much as I did; and my brother Charles, I bequeath the editorship of The Trail Blazer hoping that he can make fewer mistakes than I made.

I, Mattie Ann Smith, do hereby will to my brother William, my good times at Union with the hopes that he will have as much fun as I did.

I, B. E. Gilbert, hereby will my ability to get through school without studying to my brother Ray.

I, Rosa Lee Dorsey, hereby will all my good times to my sister "Carol" hoping she will have as much fun as I have.

I, Mary Lee Dorsey, hereby will all my books and good times to my brothers, Junior and Billy, hoping they will learn more than I did.

I, Rosa Nell Armstrong, will my Physics Book to anyone who think they can learn more than I did.

I, Clifton Tessner, will my ability to be late to Physics Class to anyone who needs more time, with the hopes that they get away with it as much as I.

have "peace on earth and good will toward men?"

Is it the time when no one need be lonely because holidayers seem to carry a bit of their souls in each glance of the eye?

Is it a business man's clearance sale because everyone is sold on the idea?

...that the end of the year is here and that there are the many warm and heart-felt words and gifts yet unacted that makes Christmas the symbol of what life can really be like?

Are the friendly smiles and the expressions of the best of season's greetings a repentance for having failed through the year?

Is it the beloved feeling of childhood mystery surrounding Santa Claus regained each December?

Is it merely the time for forgetting problems of human relations in order to
